are predicting an almost unprecedented business year as the result of bountiful harvests throughout Georgia and the entire southeastern territory and of eager and waiting markets.

Commending warmly The Constitution's presentation of the magnificent and unusual crop conditions in Georgia and adjacent states, which indicate an almost unprecedented year of prosperity for this section, Atlanta bankers incline to the opinion that the statement was a conservative one.

"We have never had reason to be more optimistic as to the immediate future than now," is the forceful summing up of Asa G. Candler, president of the Central Bank and Trust corporation, while President Frank Hawkins, of the Third National, declares Georgia and the Carolinas "the most

While expressing regret that the misfortunes of other sections in our damage should have been a factor in our own prosperity, they view it as one of those providential recurrence in which all sections must at one time or another share, and Georgia has hers just a year ago.

The Constitution has it down right said President Frank Hawkins, of the Third National bank. "I read the Constitution's report Sunday of the splendid crop conditions in all parts of Georgia, and it is surprising how closely they accord with reports from over-own correspondents. Practically every letter we have received brings business and crop reports indicative of the best season since 1890.

"I had a letter this morning from a prominent Texas business man who told me that the crops had been badly damaged there, and that Texas would not make over 4,000,000 bales this year. This is indicative of conditions in all that territory west of the Mississippi. While here in the southeast we are everywhere making splendid crops with Georgia and the Carolina being the most favored section of the entire country."

"With no mishap Georgia should make 1,500,000 bales of cotton this season, and with a good price for the product, there is no question that we are going to have a highly satisfactory year. Our correspondents tell us that the farmers are disposed to sell their cotton and pay their debts, and every indication points to the fact that collections will be good, not only throughout Georgia, but the southeast, this fall."

"Atlanta is right in the center of all this prosperity, and in my opinion may look for one of the best business years it has ever known. There are already indications of the money situation getting easier, and it is a better feeling in the east now, and with the marketing of the cotton, I am confident the next 60 to 90 days will see a full restoration of conditions that obtained prior to the war. The effect of this is going to bring a great deal of money into Atlanta, and the city is undoubtedly going to grow rapidly but substantially."

"The action of the treasury in putting out money with the banks of the country to assist in buying the crop is a splendid move and a policy which I think should be made permanent."

time of crop movements, and such assistance as this would tend to in a large measure be met by the fact that the people of Georgia and the southeast, now that they are about to reap the fruits of their labors, are so happy and contented that they should not need an excess of good fortune to overcome their better judgment and lead them not only into folly but bad investment. At times like this the exercise of a little good judgment will undoubtedly lead to the best results from the good fortune which has come to them."

Peel Elated Over Outlook.

"I was deeply impressed by the report of conditions in Georgia and the southeast as presented in The Constitution's story and editorial of Sunday," said Colonel W. L. Peel, president of the American National Bank. "There is no exaggeration about it. If anything, it might have been put even stronger."

"Our correspondents are writing us from day to day that the crop prospects are as fine as they have ever known, and the indications are that the farmers and merchants throughout the state are not only going to be able to pay their debts, but they will have money enough with which to trade freely."

"The effect of the crop movement is already being felt. The money situation is getting easier now, and there is every indication that it will clear up very rapidly, and that the country will be able to pay its debts."

"Right now, while this prosperity confronts us, we ought to think about the importance of saving. The people of Georgia ought to be taught to save. Every child should be taught to save. Every child should be taught to save."

"The savings accounts of Massachusetts are $11,000,000. Those of Georgia are $1,000,000. It is this savings that constitute the backbone of a nation. It is this savings that constitute the backbone of a nation."

"That was a great story of The Constitution's Sunday edition. I am personally acquainted with many of the men quoted and I know that they have given a careful and conservative statement of conditions in their communities. I feel confident there is a splendid business year before us, and Atlanta will be a happy city."

Optimistic Replies From Many Bankers.

"Let me say in the outset," said President A. G. Candler, of the Central Bank and Trust corporation, "I appreciate the splendid service rendered by The Constitution in its story and editorial of Sunday. It is not only a true thing, but it is a thing of truth, and it goes to substantiate what we have been hearing in other letters from our correspondents. We are absolutely satisfied with all the other sections of the country."

"Two weeks ago we wrote our correspondents not only in all parts of Georgia, but also in various cities of the north and east. We have heard nothing but the best news. We have heard nothing but the best news. We have heard nothing but the best news."

the Travelers' Bank and Trust company. The crops were splendid reports The Constitution gave us Sunday from all sections of the state, and they are in thorough agreement with the reports we are receiving from our Georgia correspondents. It is not correct to have a splendid crop of cotton, while the crop damage in other sections is being made up by the price. It is always possible, by reason of her corn and hay crops, which I am inclined to believe to be the history of the state. This shows that the people of Georgia are getting themselves into a position where they can make their living at home and the result will be a great money out of the state this year to pay for western products than we have been in the habit of doing heretofore. While we are making a big cotton crop and the price is good, we should not lose sight of this other and very important element which so largely enters into and contributes to what promises to be a year of almost unprecedented prosperity for the southeast."

"The Constitution has given a splendid summary of the situation, and I heartily concur in its conclusion that the business opportunity just ahead of us is one which Atlanta has seldom known before."

Making More Money, Keep More at Home.

"An important factor contributing to the almost unprecedented prosperity of the southeast and one which we cannot afford to overlook," said Colonel Robert Lowry, president of the Lowry National Bank, "is our magnificent cotton crop. It is this crop that has increased our production for the year and our neighboring states are sharing in the scene of the business wintering the important law."

"Increased crop production means more money at home, but that we are going to keep as much of the money as we make instead of sending it out west."

"With a 3,500,000 bale crop in Georgia at $60 a bale, we have got $210,000,000 more cotton seed money. Under these circumstances Atlanta and Georgia couldn't do a year of prosperity if they tried. Reports from our correspondents are all to the effect that the crops are better than last year, and the outlook everywhere in this territory as we hear it is exceptionally bright."

GALEVILLE POLICE CHARGED BY POLICE

Town Is Stirred by Charges of Gambling Made on Sunday Afternoon by Prominent Citizens.

Galeville, Ga., September 8.—(Special.)—A gambling raid in which many prominent business men were arrested was made by the police Sunday on the quarters of the Lions, an exclusive and fashionable club in the business district.

The raid was being filed from the building to the street, A. K. Smith and Dr. A. C. Gower, a well-known physician, eye-witnesses said that Smith arrested the prisoner while Dr. Gower was in the hands of Policemen E. Spence and Edwards.

Montgomery, striking him in the face. The physician attempted to return to the scene but he was held. As it was the police chief severely on the knees and hands. Strayders in the building before further trouble was created.

Nineteen prisoners in all were taken into custody. They will be arraigned in the morning court this afternoon at 4 o'clock on charges of disorderly conduct. Perhaps the largest crowd in the history of the north Georgia courts will be in attendance as the raid has created a sensation that has spread throughout the town.

Makes Spectacular Escape.

No money was confiscated by the raiders. It is said that a member of the club who is a conspicuous figure in local society, managed to pocket an enormous amount of money. It is a window that fronted Bradford street, in which the club building is situated, and reached a neighboring house through a hole in the wall.

A crowd of pedestrians who had gathered on the street below, attracted to the scene by the excitement witnessed in the building, the fleeing man, who was stated by these eye-witnesses, jumped through a third-story window and ran across the cross-arm of the telephone pole and hid himself in the network of wires.

Across the wires he crawled to a nearby roof, jumping off it and placing himself through a scuttle hole. The police have since been unable to find him. He is believed to be in the city, but he has not been seen since the raid.

Nobody Locked Up.

No one was locked up. All were given copies of charges. The list of prisoners contains the names of some of the city's leading business men. Many of whom are of Galeville's oldest families. The fight between Dr. Gower and the police officer, caused it is said, when the physician cursed the officer and threatened to kill him.

So far, no action has been taken against the club. It is rumored, however, that the club will be closed down. It is an exclusive club, patronized by members of Galeville's upper set. It is also one of the city's most fashionable. Entrance was forced by the police through the main entrance.

TWO BOYS DROWNED IN THE SATILLA RIVER

Waycross, Ga., September 8.—(Special.)—Two boys were drowned in the Satilla river, near Waycross, this morning. They were Robert Harrell, a 15-year-old adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Harrell, and Dick Litteral, a 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Litteral. The boys were playing in a place where they had been told the river was not over 5 feet deep. They went into the water and both were drowned before they could be rescued. A mile away from the place where the boys were drowned, a terrified boy ran frantic cries and rushed to the scene.

The bodies of the boys were covered and were buried in a place near the afternoon.

SHE ACCUSED HUSBAND OF KILLING FIRST WIFE

Chicago, September 8.—A. Burt Muir, an expert accountant who spent from Saturday until today in a cell in a police station, while detectives investigated serious charges brought by his wife, was released today upon signing a $10,000 bond.

His wife's jealousy caused his arrest and that her stories, which he called hysterical, prevented his getting bail.

Muir was arrested Saturday on a charge of disorderly conduct. Later Mrs. Muir charged he was insane and he was examined as to his sanity. Physicians found him sane. Mrs. Muir also asserted to Police Captain Meagher that Muir had confessed to her he had killed his first wife. When Meagher had said that there was no truth in the assertion he was released.

Muir's first wife died in Louisville on June 6, 1912. Muir married his present wife in Nashville, Tenn., last February. They came to Chicago six months ago.

The records of this country show that Allen D. Muir and May A. White were married here February 1, 1912. The woman came from Atlanta.

All we need is a crop of cotton and corn, and we've got it. The country has never been so good and many of our farmers had to be told over, but now their success is theirs and they are not only coming to pay out, but will have besides plenty of money to carry them and with which to trade.

"Georgia is going to make this year from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000. Cotton and with prevailing prices that cannot mean anything else but good business. I look for a growing time next spring as we have ever had."

"Of course Atlanta will share, and share abundantly, in this prosperity. Located as it is, it is the center of the state. It is the great distributing center of the southeast, and it is only natural that it should share in the prosperity before it should contribute liberally to its prosperity and advancement."

Nothing But Prosperity Ahead of Georgia.

"The Constitution has properly discussed the situation and has shown nothing but prosperity ahead of Georgia," said President Charles M. Durr-

CHILDREN RETURN TO SCHOOL DUTIES

Nearly 26,000 Strong Youngsters Throng Streets of Atlanta on Way Back to Their Studies.

After three months of vacation pleasure, with no "ling" do the living day but romp and play, free from the "tr" of lesson study, the school children of Atlanta, nearly 26,000 strong, appeared at their respective school buildings Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock to begin their work for the year.

Big boys, little boys, small girls and large, rosy and brown from their outdoor play of the summer months, filled the streets early Monday morning as they set out from thousands of Atlanta homes for school. A number of them are beginning their last year in the schools of Atlanta, and will next spring either go to work or take up a collegiate course; others will take up where they left off at the beginning of vacation time, and still others are taking their first step into a school room. Their happy laughter and playful banter gave to the streets a pleasant atmosphere which has been sorely missed for the past three months, and which will gladden the hearts of parents for the nine months of the 1913-14 scholastic year just beginning.

No Classes on Monday. For the first day no regular classes were held, the children being given their first instructions for the session, and a slip on which was printed a list of books and other equipment needed. The different grades were organized, and, wherever possible, parents were urged to order that the regular work for the year which will be taken up this morning should not meet with unnecessary delay.

The principals of the various schools were in their offices by 8 o'clock, and fifteen minutes later more than 500 teachers were at their respective posts, ready to welcome the happy youngsters who began working in Atlanta at 8:30 o'clock. The classes were quickly formed, and the preliminary work was well under way. The giving out of book lists and lesson assignments was rushed through as speedily as possible, and in less than two hours the army of children were on their way to the shopping district to make their purchases.

The book stores of Atlanta were crowded to their utmost capacity by 10 o'clock to accommodate the thousands of children, who, accompanied by their parents and parents, rushed upon them to buy text books. In spite of the fact that all of the stores had employed extra clerks in anticipation of the rush, hundreds of men, women and children were compelled to crowd around the doors of the shops and await their turns to squeeze in. No accurate figures could be obtained on the volume of business done by these stores Monday, but it is conservatively estimated to reach close to the figure of $100,000.

Hardest Worked Man in City. Superintendent William M. Slaton and his assistants had another busy day Monday, and it is safe to say that Mr. Slaton was the hardest worked man in Atlanta for the day at least. Hundreds and hundreds of unnecessary questions, some of them foolish, inquiries, are registered in the office every hour, and the greatest wonder of it all is how Mr. Slaton and his co-workers have managed to remain cool, tempered and calm under the strain. Every visitor of the office meets with the same old, unfailing courtesy and consideration as in the days when they are not so rushed, and whenever possible, Mr. Slaton personally receives the caller, no matter how trivial or immaterial the inquiry may be. Owing to the fact that parents have insisted until the present time to assure the necessary entrance tickets for their children, the office in the City High school building is besieged by hundreds of delinquent applicants every day, and by 10 o'clock Monday morning a line containing more than 150 persons had formed in front of the building, and was constantly increasing during every hour of the day. This number was still further increased by a number of children who failed to meet the entrance requirements when they appeared at the schools Monday morning, and were sent back to secure the proper credentials.

26,000 School Children. With the night schools and several of the graded schools not yet heard from figures in the superintendent's office Monday showed that the total enrollment for the beginning of the year will reach close to the predicted 26,000. Of the reported schools, both for white and colored children, the total was 21,658, and it is expected that the remaining schools not yet heard from will add about 5,000. Of the number reported, 12,451 are enrolled in the schools for white children, and 9,207 are negroes. In addition, are 803 white children and 248 negroes. A total of 871 children, for whom no seats could be found in the schools of their respective schools, are being housed in the People's, Pryor, Georgia avenue, Inman Park, Edgewood and Highland avenue schools, which the largest total of pupils who could not be accommodated with seats. They will double up on the available seats for two days more, and will then be transferred to other schools, where the accommodations are better. A meeting of the principals of all the schools has been called by Mr. Slaton for Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at which time the matter will be thoroughly gone into and proper provision made for all applicants by transferring them to some less congested school.

Superintendent Slaton Pleased. Everything in connection with the school, except in the matter of finding seats for all the children, passed off smoothly and without the slightest hitch, and Mr. Slaton expressed himself Monday night as being well pleased with the opening, which he termed "the most successful in the history of public schools in the city of Atlanta."

Girls' Night School Opens. The girls' night school opened last night in the Steiner-Ermy building with what is stated to be the largest attendance in the history of the institution. The girls and the teachers held a most enthusiastic session and the opening, according to Mrs. Oscar Gamble, the principal, is indicative of a very successful term for the scholastic year of 1913-14.

No regular classes were held for the first night, the girls being assigned to their various classes and given instruction as to what books and other equipment to purchase. The regular routine study for the year will be taken up tonight.

$500,000 TO BE PAID THE STATE SCHOOL TEACHERS

Twenty per cent, or about $500,000, of the school appropriation fund will be paid at once to the long suffering school teachers, according to announcement from Governor Slaton's office Monday.

The amount is now available from the corporation taxes now coming in, and which will amount in the aggregate about $700,000. The new payment to the teachers constitutes a total payment made within the last four weeks of $1,000,000, which is about half of the state school fund.

HAMILTON IS GRANTED NEW TRIAL BY EDWARDS

Jurors Swear Jury Room Was Entered While They Were Reaching Verdict.

Roma, Ga., September 8.—(Special.)—Judge Price Edwards today granted a new trial in the case of Alfred S. Hamilton, convicted of embezzlement in September of 1911 in Chatooga superior court, and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

Great interest centers in the case and in the unusual grounds upon which the new trial was granted, as Hamilton, former president of Trion Cotton mill, where the alleged embezzlement took place, is a member of one of Georgia's wealthiest and most prominent families.

The ground for the new trial was that E. J. Wilson, a white man acting as janitor of the courthouse at Chatooga county after the jury had been sworn, had entered the jury room and stated that the judge would leave on the next southbound train and that the jury would be held all next week if they did not make a verdict before that time. The verdict was brought in just before the southbound train arrived.

Wilson has died since the trial, but Jurors and the constable in charge of them make affidavit that he made the statement, and three of the Jurors swear they were influenced to agree in a verdict of guilty on the charge of the Janitor's statements to have been authorized by the court.

In granting a new trial Judge Edwards says he used every endeavor to protect the jury from outside influence and declares that he will take up for future consideration "flagrant disregard of oath and of instructions" by J. M. Jackson, bailiff in charge of the jury, who admitted the Janitor to the room.

Judge Edwards presided at the original trial in place of Judge J. W. Madrox, who was disqualified, and heard the motion for the new trial only last night. He paid the fine Council will revoke his license tomorrow night.

Hamilton is under bond of $10,000.

Burke Pleads Guilty.

Macon, Ga., September 8.—(Special.)—Edward J. Burke, proprietor of a saloon on Hawthorne street, today entered a plea of guilty to violation of prohibition law and was sentenced to serve twelve months or pay a fine of $100. He paid the fine. Council will revoke his license tomorrow night.

ATLANTA DAY TO DRAW CROWD TO KNOXVILLE

Mayor Woodward has been informed through a letter from W. J. Fraser, formerly of Atlanta, but now of Knoxville, that Knoxville wants a strong representation from Atlanta on "Atlanta day" at the coming national conservation exposition there.

Mayor Woodward has written to Mr. Fraser that he approves of the idea and that he will take it up with the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and the newspapers.

Mr. Fraser wants a squad from the fire department, another squad from the police department, city officials and a large delegation of citizens. "The mayor believes that it would be a good idea to give Knoxville a real touch of 'Atlanta spirit' by running a special train in the Tennessee city on 'Atlanta day' if the people of Atlanta are agreeable to the scheme."

G. M. A. WILL OPEN FOR THE FALL TERM TODAY

The Georgia Military academy will open the fall term of the fourteenth year this morning. The last number of the faculty arrived Monday, and Colonel J. C. Woodward, president, states that everything is in readiness for the opening, and that from all indications, the school will enjoy this term the most successful year in its history. Students from nearly every state in the Union and a considerable number from foreign countries are enrolled this year. A number of last year's star athletes are back for the fall term and the outlook for a winning eleven this fall is bright.

Silk Neckwear For Fall

Flowing ends are "the thing" in the silk scarfs for fall. They are very fine ends that flow—very fine silks, very fine designs, and the ones shown here are exclusive ones.

These are of imported silks, originally patterned in foreign weaves and designs.

The Bulgarian brilliancy of the past season has given way to the deeper, richer tones of the Orient that complete harmony which grows out of the blending of nature's own splendid hues.

The fall neckwear shown at MUSE'S is full of character and rare beauty. 'Tis sheer pleasure just to look them over. They are priced at

ALLEGED SWINDLER CAUGHT BY PINKERTON

Hugh W. Timothy, Medical Student, Is Charged With Postal Frauds.

Harry Scott, of the Pinkerton, was shadowing Hugh W. Timothy, a young medical student, yesterday morning as Timothy went into the Central Bank and Trust Corporation in the Cadillac building. Timothy was suspected of fraudulent operations through the mails and Scott's agency had been employed in the case.

The youth walked into the building through the Peachtree street entrance. The detective waited outside. Presently, Timothy dashed wildly through the doorway, followed by the assistant cashier, James King. King was hatless and coatless and was crying:

"Stop him!"

The fleeing student ran directly into Scott's arms. Scott held him, announcing that he was under arrest. After which, the cashier and detective carried the prisoner to the postoffice inspectors' office in the federal building.

Timothy, government officials say, has been operating a scheme through the mails through which applicants for Pullman porter service have been swindled all over the state. Advertisement recently appeared in the Atlanta Constitution announcing that applicants for Pullman service could be taught for the nominal sum of $5, and that if their application did not pass the government board of examination, the money would be returned.

Timothy used the name of Police Victim, it is said, number 38. Most of Timothy's money orders and checks were cashed in the Cadillac building bank. Pinkerton men noted officials of the bank to apprehend Timothy, and Monday morning when he stopped to cash a check of $15, Cashier King told him that he was wanted by government authorities.

The chase resulted, Timothy was investigated before Commissioner Condit Monday afternoon and ordered held for further investigation.

SKIMPY DRESSES AND PAINTED FACES ARE RAPPED BY PREACHER

Macon, Ga., September 8.—(Special.) Dr. W. A. Alsworth, an Episcopal minister, yesterday morning in a sermon at the Street Methodist church, declared that women can be seen on the streets of Macon any day with dresses of such vulgar display as to demand the interference of the police in the interest of public morals.

He declared that only a few days ago a young woman, dressed in such a street and placed him in a very embarrassing position, and that he was told by her that she was of good family and noble name, said Dr. Alsworth. "I knew from her skimp dress and painted cheeks that she was the daughter of a poor man, and I was told by her that she was of good family and noble name, said Dr. Alsworth.

The same immoralities have been seen in the modern dances, declared Dr. Alsworth. "Recently a stranger went to the Loh Cabin club, and from the veranda witnessed the midnight orgy of such declared, and turning to her companion declared: 'If there are the kind of people of the city, I pity the worst.'"

The turkey trot, bunny hug and chicken dance, the preacher said, are as the extreme of degeneration and indecency.

MUTUAL LIFE AGENTS MEET AT THE ANSLY

What will no doubt prove to be an annual affair was the meeting yesterday of twenty agents of the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York yesterday morning and afternoon at the Hotel Ansley. Dr. P. Shelden, manager of the Atlanta branch of the company, presided.

A feature of the gathering was the address of Professor J. A. Jackson, an instructor of agencies from the home office of the company, who was present at the special invitation of Dr. Shelden.

The working of the life insurance frame from every standpoint was fully explained by Professor Jackson, who told many of his own experiences in a very interesting manner.

NO "STOOL PIGEONS" AND NO DICTAGRAPH IF MAYOR HAS WAY

Mayor Woodward has declined to sign two vouchers from Newport A. Landford, chief of city detectives, one of which is to delay the prosecution of the use of a dictagraph upon Attorney Thomas R. Palmer several months ago, and the other for the payment of "stool pigeons," and these vouchers have been returned to Chief Landford by the city comptroller's office.

The voucher for the dictagraph was declared to be an outrageous piece of work for which he was unwilling to sign. The voucher for the payment of "stool pigeons" was declared to be an outrageous piece of work for which he was unwilling to sign.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

All the News of Real Estate and Building.

Residents near Peachtree Creek are pleased to notice that the city sent a gang of laborers Monday to start the work of clearing the stream of all debris, etc. It is thought that this work will be completed by the end of the week or possibly earlier.

For a long while there has been much agitation on this subject. The Constitution especially having fought for the work to be done and done immediately.

Business Outlook Bright.
The really outlook is bright at the present time, though no doubt of great importance have been suffered for some time. There has been a large volume of small transfers lately mostly to deals in home and business property.

A small influx of foreign money has been experienced in the last week or two, and to a certain extent this has helped out the local situation. With this possibility of an enormous cotton and corn crop the outlook on the money situation seems to be more promising than it has for some time.

Heavy Building Work Progressing.
Work on the new Georgia State Capitol is progressing nicely. This time last week the exterior terra cotta work had only reached the fourth floor. Today the twelfth floor was completed and by the end of next week this exterior work should be completed.

Sale on Highland Avenue.
John H. Wessman sold to C. S. Carter for $10,000 a house and lot on Highland Avenue. The lot is a few feet north of Adair avenue, 51x111 feet.

Application for Building Permits.
Two applications for permits to build residences to cost under $1,000 were filed yesterday with Building Inspector Hays. These were: One-story frame dwelling on Peachtree street, owned by Arthur Heyman, and one-story frame dwelling on Peachtree street, owned by Arthur Heyman.

around," said Senator Reed. The amendment was lost. Senator Brady, of Idaho, republican, credited the democrats with good faith in their efforts to prepare a tariff bill, but insisted the present measure would be a failure. He said farmers throughout the west who voted for the democratic party did not believe that agricultural products would be put on the free list. Senator Warren, of Wyoming, said the pending bill meant free trade as far as his state was concerned. An

Senator Jones, of Washington, a Republican, who also had offered an inheritance tax amendment, said he believed the country would soon recognize the justice of heavy taxes upon large inherited estates. His plan would impose a graduated tax running up to 33 per cent on lineal inheritances of over $20,000,000 and 10 per cent on collateral inheritances above $15,000,000.

of this tax. It is believed the cotton futures tax will be adopted, but the breathing spell taken before it is extended to grain.

Representative Underwood, house leader, when asked about prospects in the house, smiled significantly, and said:

"The house has gone on record in recent years in favor of such tax."
